Meet the Music Therapist, Ms Sherrere Teh

Sherrere graduated with a Master of Music Therapy from the University of Melbourne. She interned at Connections UnitingCare, a community organisation supporting marginalised and disadvantaged children, young people, and families as well as The Monash Children's Hospital. Upon returning to Malaysia, Sherrere has worked with children and adolescents, among which many of them learn differently.

Sherrere is passionate to advocate for music to be accessible for everyone, no matter the age or abilities of the person. She believes that music is an important medium to facilitate the development and growth of a healthy child.

About Music Therapy:

Music therapy is a research-based practice and profession in which music is used to actively support people as they aim to improve their health, functioning and wellbeing. It is the intentional use of music incorporating a range of music-making methods within and through a therapeutic relationship. Music therapy is different from music education and entertainment as it focuses on health, functioning and wellbeing.
