

UNDERSTAND YOUR DISORGANISED CHILD & STUDENT'S EXECUTIVE FUNCTIONING

WITH SARAH WARD, M.S.CCC/SLP

- ✓ Do you have students who are disorganized and may not have the materials they need or even turn in the homework they have completed?
- ✓ Are the students desk, locker or room a 'black hole' for papers and materials?
- ✓ Do you observe students who struggle to "stop and read the room" and meet the demands of the situation?

- ✓ Do you wish your students had a sense of urgency when it comes to time so that tasks are completed, and routines to get out the door or to the next class happen on time?
- ✓ Do you see students who are constantly multitasking, so tasks/assignment take twice as long as they should?
- ✓ Does it seem that your students have an inability to breakdown the demands of an assignment and have a sense of how to start?
